

I support action by the FCC to enable customers of wireless telephone carriers to keep their phone numbers when changing carriers. Such action is in the public interest since it promotes competition by the carriers. The public is entitled to the same privileges with wireless phones that they enjoy with wired carriers.